

Positive values favor measurement-aware fitting; negative values favor naïve fitting.

All condition summaries, estimator comparisons, and display selections were archived upstream before plotting.